Music, Flowers, Speeches and a Good Time Generally the Order of the Evening-Remarks Upon the Benefit of a Business

About 600 of Pittsburg's people gathered at the popular Curry College last evening to enjoy another of the annual holiday/tide receptions for which the institution is famous. The attendance included many of the young men and women sent forth to do battle with the world, and the nature of their equipment was shown by the well-to-do and successful was shown by the well-to-do and successful appearance of the ex-pupils.

The visitors after disencumbering themselves of their wraps cutered the reception chamber to the right of the staffs and met the members of the faculty and the Board of Trustees, who were grouped about the room, which was decorated with potted plants and flowers in luxurious profusion. The introductions were formal and were made to the ladies and gentlemen, who were arrayed in evening dress, the toilets of the ladies being particularly handsome in every case. PACULTY AND TRUSTEES.

The entire faculty of the university was present, as follows: Prof. J. C. Williams, President of the university; Mrs. J. C. Williams, Prof. Byron King and wife, Prof. Scuit, wife and daughter. Miss Jennie Williams, Prof. Rowe and wife, Miss Portia Vickers, Prof. Wisman, Miss Mattie Dalzell, Miss Lizzie Bryan, Dr. E. M. Wood, Prof. Wis. McCurrdy, Prof. E. H. Garber and wife Prof. Simon, Bissell and wife. and wife, Prof. Simeon Bissell and wife, Mrs. Harmar Williams, Miss Margaret Marlitt Douthett, W. M. Stevenson. The following members of the Board of Trustees were present to assist in the pleas-antries of the occasion: Colonel and Mrs. Herron, Dr. Swentzel, Rev. Dr. Cowan and wife, Dr. James W. Neely, A. P. Burchfield, Esq., Mr. J. C. Andrews, General A. L. Pearson, Dr. E. M. Wood and Sheriff A. Æ. McCandless. A member, whose other engagements precluded the possibility of being present, sent letters of regret, accompanied by congratulations upon the great growth, enlarged scope and increasing usefulness of the institution.

THE RECEPTION COMMITTEE. To the alert young ladies and gentlemen of the Senior class of '90 was intrusted the pleasant duty of receiving the visitors and introducing them to the faculty and trus-tees. Their thorough case and self-possession left nothing to be desired in the performance of their duties. The visitor was made to feel thoroughly at home by the time the line of the received had been passed. It was a very pleasant gauntlet, and the visitors felt under obligations to the bright young ladies cspecially.

The names of the reception committee were as follows: Miss Jean Boobyer, Miss May Lacock, Miss Clara Smith, Miss Hettie Schultz, Miss Alma Shafer, Miss Grace Hayer, Miss Lillian Lytle, Miss Kate Dempsey, Miss Mabel Igoour and Mr. Taylor, Mr. Carrier, Mr. George Comp. especially. Passing beyond the reception hall the way led through the offices into the College Hall, which was handsomely decorated with flags, evergreens, potted plants, flowers and young ladies. Though last the latter were far from least, and they were surrounded by plenty of young gentlemen, the whole assemblage being in full evening costume. Upon the stage was the full orchestra of Toerge Bros., and very excellent music was discoursed during the entire evening. The orchestra was almost concealed by a mass of flowers and ferns. The floor was free from encumbrances and waxed for obvious purposes.

After the grand march had been prome naded by over 200 couples headed by the Faculty of the University and the Board of Trustees, a semi-humorous 'address was de-livered by Prof. Sadler, of Baltimore, Md., agend of the famous Bryant and Stratton sys tem of commercial colleges, in which the gentleman, who is a ready and apt speaker, sularged upon the fact that merchants now-adays were apt to ask an applicant for a position for his credentials from a business college just in the same breath as for his moral fitness. The old scheme of the raw country had dropping into a big counting room and getting the fat of the land on account of a pair of bare feet, a rural stamm, and a bright face didn't go now-adays. In fact the speaker believed that it tem of commercial colleges, in which the adays. In fact, the speaker believed that it bad always been a little commercial fiction. Prof. Sadler was beartily applauded when his brief address was concluded.

Very recently an element of danger has been added to shopping in Pittsburg, and those who are thoughtful of their wives, mothers, sisters and daughters have looked with some alarm to the increasing number of cable cars in the already crowded and narrow streets of Pittsburg. There is one street, however, that is not troubled in this respect, and every day it is becoming more popular as a shopping therongulare. We mean Smithfield street. To those of our readers who have fractious or lively horses we commend this precaution as wise and necessary.
